Commander's Adlibs

I have talked to other Commanders in the region about rising costs and it seems we all have similar concerns with our income/expenses. If we raise prices for food and beverages, it seems like it gives our members heartburn. However, as you know, just about all costs have increased. Even in our personal lives the cost of living continues to increase. We've tried to reduce our expenses, but there are some expenses we have little or no control over such as: insurance, utilities, alarm system, cleaning, routine maintenance, repairs, etc. Add to that the increased costs of food and beverages, and we have no choice but to raise prices.

Other posts have the same issues and have had to increase prices across the board. Sad to say, we have done the same.

One a lighter note, our 4th of July celebration was a big hit with our members and the community. One of Post 423's goals is to give back to the community we call home and this was good way to do that since 500 people attended this late evening celebration.

A list of upcoming events through the end of 2024 is included in this newsletter. You are invited to join us – I look forward to seeing you – be sure to wear a name badge – at my age, I have a very short memory. If you can't find a name badge – not to worry – I have lost mine.

Stay well, safe and enjoy the remainder of the summer.

Claude Hale, Commander

Auxiliary News

Summer is coming to an end. It has been hot, humid and it has been rainy. The leaves will be changing soon. Enjoy the colors!

Vermont Settlement Days have come and gone. The Auxiliary's Chicken Barbeque was a success. We sold 100 chicken dinners and made a profit. We deboned what was left and put it in the freezer for future use. Dessert table went well also. We talked of a few changes for next year. One being start earlier and being more visible. Another was we do not have to have it on the Settlement Days and we need to advertise more. We will revisit this in about 3-4 mos. Thank you to all of you that helped!

The July 4th celebration went well. Dinner was delicious and the fireworks were fantastic!!

We bought 4 new tables and 2 of them were donated by the Tiederman family. THANK YOU!!!

This month's gift card is Mr Bratz.

We have information on the fall conference September 20—22. Please let Rhonda know if you are interested.

Also. the Auburn Auxiliary is doing a Craft Show on October 12th.
